

Custom Cable Assemblies

Design your own solution

Pomona Electronics responds to a wide range of special or custom requirements by providing cable assemblies tailored to your needs. Think of the possibilities! You can now define your own custom product made of any combination of cables, wires, connectors or probes in our line, and we can also add your logo or other special markings.

Combinations of coaxial connector/adaptor assemblies can include strain relief sheathing, color coding and the use of special wire, marking and lengths.
